Young Wins Fight For NYC Control By Million Shares

By Ed Morse

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert R. Young has won his fight for control of the mighty New York Central Railroad by a margin of 1,070,000 shares, it was learned yesterday from an authoritative source which declined to be identified.

The results of the election are to be announced officially by the election inspectors at 10 a.m. Monday at Albany.

The official results will announce the election of Young's slate of 14 men and a woman to Central's Board of Directors, the source disclosed, unseating the old board headed by Central President William White.

YOUNG THIS ends 85 years of domination by the financial and family descendants of the last century's titans, Cornelius Vanderbilt and J. Pierpont Morgan.

The war for the Central was the biggest business struggle in a generation and the greatest victory Young ever scored in his career.

The 57-year-old, Texas-born financier began his attack by demanding Central's board chairmanship last February. When the Central board refused he launched a blistering attack against his old-time enemies — the "Wall St. Bankers."

HE NEVER let up. He bought more stock, made more speeches and ran more newspaper advertisements. Young won going away.

It was the achievement of a long-stated ambition by the white-thatched little man with the twinkling blue eyes—once known as "the daring young man of Wall Street."

Back in April when the proxy statements of each side were made his lead was already overwhelming.

THE SLATE of Young nominees owned or controlled 1,118,880 shares of the Central's 6,447,410 shares of outstanding common. This was 17.4 per cent.

The Central board owned or controlled only 106,122 shares, or 1.6 per cent of the total.

But 800,000 shares of the Young group's holdings belonged to Texas millionaires Clint W. Murchison and Sid W. Richardson and the Central tried to bar these from being voted.

IN THIS EFFORT the Central lost every round—in the courts, before the Interstate Commerce Commission and finally before the election commissioners at Albany, N. Y. where the stockholders' meeting was held.

Young's margin of victory seems to have removed any threat that the Central's management might appeal once more to the courts, this time to upset the election inspectors' ruling which admitted the 800,000 shares to the stock tally.

Even if the block was ruled out, Young would still be ahead by 270,000 shares.

Mercury Reaches 90-Degree Mark

THE STROUDSBURG recorded the highest mercury readings in the county yesterday—90 degrees at mid-afternoon — as residents sweltered in the hottest day of the year.

A gentle breeze aided sweltering citizens, keeping the humidity at a fairly comfortable level. Elsewhere in the county at 3 p.m. temperature readings were 81 in Mount Pocono; 80 in Blakeslee; 86 in Bushkill and 87 in Brodheadsville.

Large Bear Seen At Bartonsville

BARTONSVILLE — A bear, described by two local women as "very large" is roaming the area but no reports have been told that he's as destructive as another in the Wooddale section.

Miss Anna Straub, a summer resident said she spotted the animal Thursday night moving quietly near her home. Mrs. Harold Sprague also reported seeing the bear earlier.

Flanders Demands McCarthy Be Ousted As Committee Head

Army Counsel Clashes Anew With McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy crossed swords with Army Counsel Joseph N. Welch for the second time in three days at the McCarthy-Army hearings yesterday, and the proceedings were further enlivened by a serio-comic dispute about the "Schine plan" to sell democracy through the world.

Welch, who accused the Wisconsin senator of reckless cruelty three days ago, pleaded with him yesterday afternoon to give a clean bill of health to Pvt. G. David Schine's former commanding officer.

"AREN'T YOU capable of a single affirmative kindness?" Welch asked McCarthy.

"Vaudeville act!" McCarthy hit back.

He said he's convinced that Schine's former commander, Col. Earl Ringler, is a good officer — that he has nothing against him except that the colonel once was reported to have called a McCarthy investigation a "witch hunt."

Midshipmen Get Security Clearance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas yesterday announced the security clearance of three midshipmen whose officers' commissions were withheld when they graduated with their class last Friday from the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Thomas expressed regret that the task of investigating the backgrounds of all 854 members of the graduating class was so large that it could not be completed before graduation day.

The secretary's announcement means that the three—Harold Pollock, Hartford, Conn.; Paul Shimek Jr., Hazen, Ark., and Peter Yablonsky, Jersey City, N. J.—are now eligible to become officers immediately without any loss of seniority.

House Passes Trade Bill

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower won a partial victory yesterday as the House voted to permit him to negotiate trade agreements with other nations for another year.

It passed and sent to the Senate by roll-call vote of 281 to 53 a bill keeping alive until June 12, 1955, the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act developed by Cordell Hull 20 years ago.

The President's trade agreement powers technically end at midnight today but the Senate was expected to approve the House extension probably next week.

Court Employee, Salesman Held In $5,000 Theft

LEBANON (AP) — William L. Gelbach, 72-year-old assistant Lebanon County Court stenographer and a county worker 25 years was arrested yesterday over a shortage of about $5,000 in county funds he was responsible for collecting.

Soon after his arrest by County Detective John Lenker, a second Lebanon man, Elvin Weierbach, 62, a shrubbery salesman, was arrested. He had been implicated by Gelbach.

Both were held in Lebanon County jail, Gelbach on a charge of embezzlement of county funds collected over the last five years and Weierbach on a charge of extortion and blackmail in obtaining county funds from Gelbach.

Transit Strike Settled

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A proposed agreement to end the 34-day trolley and bus strike in Pittsburgh was reached last night. Mayor David L. Lawrence said union leaders told him they will recommend that 2,700 strikers approve the agreement.

New York (AP) — Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. definitely entered the running yesterday for the Democratic nomination as governor of New York—an office his father held before becoming President.

Pleasant Valley Joint Board Turns Down Resolution For Further Study Of Jointure

BRODHEADSVILLE—Pleasant Valley Jointure held its last regularly-scheduled meeting last night at Chestnut-hill school.

Mrs. Smith Identifies Man As Abductor

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Mrs. Evelyn Ann Smith late last night "positively identified" a suspect from a police lineup as the man who abducted her from a busy downtown street and held her 24 hours until $75,000 ransom was paid.

The man had staggered into a farmhouse near the place Mrs. Smith was released. Officers identified him as Daniel Marsin, 41, an unemployed welder.

POLICE CHIEF Charles Thomas said the 23-year-old mother identified Marsin as the man who kidnapped her Tuesday afternoon, drove her into the Superstition Mountains and held her at gunpoint.

The ransom was paid the next day by her husband, Herbert Smith, a wealthy Phoenix pipe and steel company executive.

MARSIN WAS naked to the waist when sheriff's deputies arrested him at the farm house for investigation. He had but a few pennies in his pockets. He pleaded for water, saying he had become lost while hunting for the fabled Lost Dutchman gold mine.

Jet Crashes Into School; Five Killed

MEMPHIS (AP) — A powerful jet plane faltered on takeoff and crashed through a Memphis Naval Air Station aviation mechanics' school last night, killing five.

Five persons died in the furious fire fed by fuel splashed from the stricken F4U Navy Cutlass. Seven were injured, one seriously.

The sleek fighter screamed down the runway, lifted, then swerved into a deadly dive from an altitude of about 300 feet. It flashed by a water tower, about 1,000 yards off the runway, sliced the top off a low aluminum "hut," then ripped through the two-story gray-shingle school.

THE DEAD included the pilot and a woman civilian employee.

The flier was identified as Lt. Robert Woolverton, 33, a six-plane ace in World War II, stationed at Dallas as a Navy test pilot. His next of kin was listed as his mother, Mrs. Sadie Woolverton of Abilene, Kans.

The civilian secretary was listed as Mrs. Elaine House Branch, Millington, Tenn., wife of a retired Navy chief.

The other bodies, badly mangled in the fire, could not be identified without extensive checking.

Meet Your Neighbors

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene (Pocono Gardens) Rossi celebrating a sixth wedding anniversary today . . . best wishes . . .

The meeting was marked by an unsuccessful attempt to put the board on record as favoring a committee to make "a further study of jointure or union."

A proposed resolution was submitted to the board by George Dold, Polk Township resident, and head of the jointure's "foundation committee"—a group set up to find ways of soliciting funds to build a secondary school.

DOLD'S RESOLUTION asked for a committee made up of two members from each of the five boards, the chairman and one member of the "foundation" group, the president and one member of the West End School Authority.

Also serving with the committee, he said, would be supervising principals, members of service clubs and PTA's. The resolution also asked that the "public press" appoint one of "its official staff" as a member of this committee.

When Dold had finished reading his resolution, board president R. Newton Davenport told board members: "I'd be glad to consider a motion or discussion."

ROSS TOWNSHIP'S Clayton Snyder suggested it might be better "to leave things just as they are now." Snyder said there was little use in attempting such a study with the present board memberships and with pressure groups "bubbling in like they did before."

Davenport countered with a statement that "if our jointure disappears we'll be in no position to take advantage of the coming appropriations to be made during the legislative year."

At this point William Anthony, another Polk resident, asked to be heard. The important fact right now, Anthony said, was that "this jointure is about to dissolve — whether by outsiders or by inability of boards to get anywhere, the fact remains."

Anthony said he felt the resolution "should be tried."

DAVENPORT recounted the provisions of the resolution, after which Ervin Kreeger, a member of Chestnut-hill board of which Davenport is also president, asked if Davenport thought "these people could get together any quicker than we could?"

Davenport said he did not think the joint board "was together." If the jointure dissolved, he asked, "What is next?"

Snyder replied: "That you should have thought of before." The Ross member cited an instance during Pleasant Valley's past history when a compromise site for the proposed secondary school had been selected and approved by the board members.

Davenport challenged the legality of the selection after the site had been approved by the Monroe County School Board.

"THAT QUESTION has been answered so many times before, I won't take any time to answer it," Davenport replied.

Chestnut-hill's Clyde Dietrich then said he thought there should be "a cooling-off period." To insure a harmonious board operation, Dietrich indicated further, "there should be more mutual understanding" among board members.

Two or three board members, without addressing the chair, commented on "letting the sores heal" and "too much power from small groups outside." Taking part in the conversation were members from Ross, Chestnut-hill and Hamilton. They were in apparent agreement on the points.

DAVENPORT then asked: "Any other comments?" Anthony spoke again, saying that "if you (the board) dissolve without doing anything you'll close the door on something being done for a mighty long time."

Davenport asked again for a motion on the resolution. Snyder agreed to make a motion not to accept the resolution.

At this, Dold said: "I would like to rise on a point of order or privilege if I may." It would not be necessary for the board to nullify "something which I have not done," he said.

Eden Declares Korean Talks Bogged Down

GENEVA (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, who Thursday declared the Indochina peace talks were foundering, performed the same task yesterday for the long-deadlocked negotiations on unifying Korea.

Eden said he was ready to explore every means of reaching agreement on Korea, but that "there must be some sign that agreement is possible."

"If no way can be found of resolving the differences of these two main issues," Eden said, "then we shall have to admit that this conference has not been able to complete its task."

IN THIS EVENT, Eden added, the proper procedure would be to report back to the United Nations on the deadlocked negotiations. The search for a political settlement in Korea then could be resumed "whenever the right moment came."

Eden was expected to see Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov today for a discussion on the low state the conference has reached. No sessions on either Korea or Indochina have been scheduled for the week-end.

board accept the resolution. Snyder agreed.

The board president then made a motion to accept the resolution as read by Dold and asked: "Do I hear a second?" Davenport waited, but no second came.

"Hearing no second," he said, "that would mean we would return the resolution to its suggester."

DOLD ROSE, took back the sheet on which his resolution had been hand-written, and said the board should do what they liked — "they'll have to answer for that."

The board approved, without discussion, bills in the amount of $1,401.21 for the month. The joint system's payroll for the period was listed as $10,894.37.

Other routine items of business involved in the dissolution of the jointure were also handled quickly.

NEAR THE conclusion of the meeting, Polk Principal Harry Young, who is elementary supervisor under jointure, rose to say that supplies left over during the year had been split up and divided on a percentage basis in accordance with the amount of cost each board paid into jointure.

The last regular meeting adjourned on a motion by Warren Getz, only Polk board member at the meeting, with a second by Kreeger.

Special meetings will be held, however, for audit and payroll purposes. First of these will occur on Tuesday, June 29.

Senate Requested To Strip Chairman Of Probe Powers

By Wilmet Hercher

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Flanders (R-Vt) demanded yesterday that the Senate strip Senator McCarthy of his investigative powers as a committee chairman until McCarthy purges himself of "contempt" by answering "charges" made against him in 1952.

Before delivering this open challenge on the Senate floor, Flanders confronted the Wisconsin senator at the McCarthy-Army hearings and served written notice that he intended to make the address. It was Flanders' third speech against McCarthy in recent weeks.

MCCARTHY'S first comment was, "I don't have enough interest in any Flanders speech to listen to it." Shown a copy of the address later, he remarked:

"I think they should get a man with a net and take him to a good quiet place."

In calling for McCarthy's ouster as chairman of the Government Operations Committee and its Investigations subcommittee, Flanders asserted McCarthy is in contempt of "the whole Senate" because of his refusal to appear two years ago before a Senate group which investigated his finances and other activities.

"IT IS NO defense to call the charges a 'smear,'" the 73-year-old Vermontor said. "A smear is a most annoying thing and one which is perhaps (I would not speak definitely) not unknown to the junior senator from Wisconsin."

"But there is this about a smear. It can be removed by a dry cleaning process which involves a vigorous application of the truth. That process the senator was unwilling to apply. The smear remains, of course."

Flanders was harking back to the work of a three-man Senate subcommittee set up in 1952 to investigate charges against McCarthy by former Sen. Benton (D-Conn) and countercharges made by the Wisconsin senator. The subcommittee was composed of Senators Hennings (D-Mo), Hayden (D-Ariz) and Hendrickson (R-NY).

THE "CHARGES" against McCarthy, Flanders said, "were summed up in six questions, which the committee worded as follows:

"Whether under the circumstances it was proper for Sen. McCarthy to receive $10,000 from the Lustron Corp. for a booklet about housing."

"Whether funds supplied to Sen. McCarthy to fight Communism or for other specific purposes were diverted to his own use."

"Whether Sen. McCarthy used close associates and members of his family to secrete receipts, income, commodity and stock speculation and other financial transactions for ulterior motives."

"WHETHER SEN. McCarthy's activities on behalf of certain special interest groups, such as housing, sugar and china were motivated by self-interest."

"Whether loan or other transactions Sen. McCarthy had with Appleton (Wis) State Bank or others involved violations of the tax and banking laws."

"Whether Sen. McCarthy violated federal and state corrupt practice acts in connection with his 1944-46 senatorial campaigns or in connection with his dealings with Ray Kiermas (McCarthy's administrative assistant)."

LAST OCTOBER, Atty. Gen. Brownell said the 1952 Senate subcommittee report contained no evidence that McCarthy violated any law coming within the Justice Department's jurisdiction. Brownell added that the Treasury was still investigating the senator's income taxes. Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews reported earlier this week this inquiry will be wound up within 60 days.

No senator said anything to Flanders after he finished his speech.

There was a good deal more fireworks when the Vermontor strode into the glaring lights of the McCarthy-Army hearing to notify McCarthy of the speech and invite him to be present for a reply if he wished.

WITH THE AIR of a man crossing Times Square against traffic, Flanders entered the jam-packed hearing room and asked a Senate employee:

"Where is the junior senator from Wisconsin — I mean McCarthy?"

When the senator was pointed out, Flanders exclaimed, "There he is!" then walked over and handed him the notice. For a moment McCarthy appeared dumbfounded.

THEN, AS Flanders appeared about to retire, McCarthy shouted that he remain and, if he had any information about the McCarthy-

Veteran Rebel Troops Join Delta Pincers

SAIGON, INDOCHINA (AP) — Several Vietnamese battalions which marched more than 220 miles to help destroy Dien Bien Phu last month were back yesterday at their old posts on the Thanh Hoa Plain, part of a steel area the rebel high command is welding around the Red River Delta.

French military sources told of the arrival of these seasoned Red troops at Thanh Hoa, 80 miles south of Hanoi. They were described as elements drawn from a variety of regiments to reinforce Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap's assault on the French fortress which fell May 7.

THE RETURN journey southward over jungle roads under harassing air attacks took about a month. Other rebel veterans of the siege in the meantime took up positions in strength opposite French lines northwest and southwest of Hanoi, the French war capital.

The old fight goes on between Vietnamese guerrillas and garrison forces within the rice-rich delta.

Laniel Faces Crucial Test In Assembly

PARIS (AP) — The fate of Premier Joseph Laniel's government which has been in power just two weeks short of a year, will be decided today by a vote of confidence in the French National Assembly. Yesterday there seemed little hope the Cabinet could survive. A few optimists, however, spotted rays of cheer.

The debate will start today at 9:30 a.m. (4:30 a.m. EDT). Laniel probably will be the first speaker, to plead for support. Foreign Minister Georges Bidault also may be called upon. The vote may come before late tonight, because party meetings, public explanations of votes and lobby conversations always play a big part in the proceedings before a vote of confidence.

New York City Strike Cancelled

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner yesterday announced that a transit strike scheduled for next Monday had been cancelled.

Army row, "take the oath, raise your right hand."

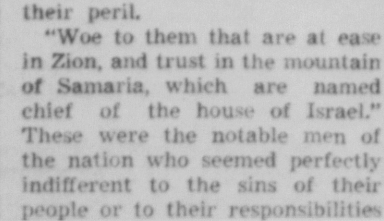

If Flanders had "nothing except the usual smears," McCarthy went on, he should air them there and not on the Senate floor.

"We can't have this feuding," objected Sen. Mundt (R-S. D.), chairman of the hearing.

McCarthy snapped that he wasn't feuding. He also said he thought a critical speech Flanders made about him last week was "not the result of viciousness, but because of senility."

FLANDERS STOOD gazing stonily at McCarthy until Mundt instructed him to go back among the spectators.

Those from W. Main St. will be brought by Mrs. J. Albert and Mrs. M. Serfass. Mrs. Serfass can be reached by calling 3388-J-1 for these desiring transportation to the school.

Almost ONE MILLION juvenile delinquents last year! Increase expected this year!

These are not dull statistics. They are flesh and blood figures. They are the tragedy of America written not with paper and pen, but with the wreckage of young lives.

"But why?" you ask. "What is the cause?"

Judges and social workers, almost with one voice, lay the blame on home influences and lack of religious training.

It's up to you, then, Mother and Dad, to help YOUR child. Give him a home filled with love and understanding rather than indifference—a home that leads him into service rather than crime.

Bring YOUR child to Sunday School and Church. Help him become a happy, useful personality, instead of a sad statistic.

Statistics aren't dull when they're human

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"Let Them Eat Cake"

The Route 611 sell-out between Delaware Water Gap and Portland is another example of utter disregard not only for citizens of Pennsylvania, but those from other states who expect fair treatment when they come here for vacations, to do business or otherwise leave some money here.

Somebody in the State Highway Department had to approve the idea of suddenly sending Route 611 over the Delaware Water Gap toll bridge on a four and a half mile trip through New Jersey and back over the Portland bridge with a total toll charge of 50 cents.

Pretty steep banditry, this charge of 50 cents for traveling four and a half miles. Sure, you can still travel what has been labeled "Alternate Route 611" through Delaware Water Gap borough to Portland, Easton and points south without paying tolls, but the very word "alternate" with a blazing big "Route 611" pointing over the bridge catches the unwary traveler unfamiliar with the region with a 50 cent toll charge for four and a half miles.

Believe us, hundreds of them are being caught and they don't like it. They don't like it so vehemently it is hurting every business operation in this region.

What is Secretary of Highways Ed Schmidt's answer? Well here it is:

The Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission "needs the revenue."

Reminds us of the arrogant, stupid queen who said: "Let them eat cake" when she was told her citizens were starving for bread.

Of course, the Queen lost her head—cut off by a populace tired of foul treatment.

Sounds like a good idea come this November. The Republican party is responsible for Mr. Schmidt. They'll have to suffer the consequences.

Food For Scandal

The nation's food surplus policies have been recognized for a long time as being somewhat ridiculous, frequently embarrassing and occasionally scandalous.

The population experts tell us that two-thirds of the world's people are underfed. Is it any wonder the United States is so often misunderstood when we continue to produce food for stockpiles that can't be sold for fear of driving down prices?

The Sky's The Limit

If there's a hole in the roof on your house, don't have a hole in your head.

Residents should beware of fast-talking solicitors who offer roof repairs dirt cheap, charge up to 20 times more than their come-on estimate, and do a lousy job in the bargain.

You ought to know by now that you won't get something for nothing.

If your home needs roof repairs, call in a reputable, hometown-address roofer or contractor. Don't be flim-flammed by the fly-by-night boys.

Ancient Norsemen believed the lights of the aurora were the Valkyries riding their ghostly horses through the sky.

An atom bomb is nearly 20 million times as powerful as an equivalent weight of TNT.

Karachi, capital of Pakistan, boosted its population 400 per cent in the past five years.

The earth ranks third among the planets in distance from the sun.

Motor vehicles in the United States traveled more than half a trillion miles in 1953.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

Q: I will never understand the action of Bob Stevens in monitoring the friendly phone call of a U. S. Senator to whom he had appealed for advice, and was giving it to him in the warmest manner. Will this destroy the morale of the white race?

A: Very nearly so.

Q: I am against unnecessary roughness, low blows, the rabbit punch and the beanball, but I still think almost anything goes to get Soviet buddies out of any branch of government for the security of America. Am I right?

A: Point of order! Point of order!

Q: Senators Symington, Jackson and McClellan were on a committee duly named to work with McCarthy in digging out spies. Will you explain why on TV they seemed to be as friendly to him and his staff as the black widow spider?

A: No, our phone calls are being monitored.

Q: I have been looking back into American history and in the case of Benedict Arnold I fail to find any instance where anybody claimed a drive to expose him, however rough, would damage the morale of the Army or hurt our prestige all over the world. How do you explain this?

A: Maybe it was all top secret.

Q: When Arnold was in communication with Major Andre and Clinton over the price of betrayal, nobody claimed that, after all, there were only one or two Arnolds and that a vigorous quiz would create the idea the country was full of Arnolds. I would like some explanation of this.

A: Who wouldn't?

Q: Would the aides of Arnold, long suspicious of his relationship with the British, have been barred from helping an inquiry on the ground it was restricted stuff?

A: Call Bigelow 6-0000.

Q: Senator Symington, defending his monitored phone calls to Secretary Stevens urging him to ignore the Marquis of Queensbury rules in any fight with McCarthy, and using the phrases "Let's counterpunch this stuff," "Don't box me in," and "If you and I work together we have got to be on the table with each other," declares he did it all to save the morale of the Army from destruction. Isn't it silly to think the stout morale of our great Army suffers more from an all-out exposure of Comies than it would suffer from knowing nothing was being left undone to get rid of them FAST?

A: Would you repeat that question?

Q: In more than a month of TV hearings I still don't know who was responsible for the promotion and honorable discharge of Dr. Peress, whose case started the whole inquiry. What's the score here?

A: Ohio State 6; Vassar 0.

HOPEFUL EXCAVATOR IN THE POLITICAL PYRAMIDS

Robert S. Allen Reports

Argument Over Voting At 18 Years Still Going On

Washington — The argument over President Eisenhower's proposal to lower the voting age to 18 is still reverberating in the Senate, even though the chamber rejected it.

Senator Russell (D., Ga.), an opposition leader, has called his colleagues' attention to some little-known history directly relating to the issue. According to Russell, the rolls of both the Union and Confederate armies prove "how unreasonable is the argument, 'old enough to fight, old enough to vote.'"

"In the great Northern army," said Russell, "there were 25 lads who were 10 years of age or younger; 38 who were 11 years of age; and 225 who were 12 years or younger. And here are some even more significant figures: There were 300 boys who were 13 years of age or younger; 1,523 who were 14 years of age or younger; 194,987 boys who were 15 years old or younger and 231,051 boys who were 16 years or younger. And that still isn't the complete story of the Union army."

"In its ranks were 844,891 boys who were 17 years of age or younger; 1,151,438 who were 18 years or younger; and 2,159,798 boys who were 21 years of age or younger. This is the record of one of the greatest armies in all military history. I repeat, this record shows clearly how unsound is the contention that 'old enough to fight is old enough to vote.'"

Note: A big shake-up is in the works for warrant officers of all the services. Next fall, 40,000 regular, reserve and temporary warrant officers will be reshuffled into new grades under the law recently passed by Congress.

Cutting down—The Treasury will make 23 percent less paper money in the new fiscal year starting July 1. Major reason for the reduction is that paper bills are lasting longer. The cut will lay off several hundred skilled craftsmen of the Bureau of Engraving, the money-making agency. . . . The U. S. Patent Office has served warning on Congress that unless it restores a $1,000,000 slash in the agency's budget, it will have to hold down the number of patents in the new fiscal year. More than 185,000 patent applications are pending, and Patent Commissioner Robert C. Watson contends his staff won't be able to cope with this huge backlog. He claims he will have to let out more than 100 examiners and other trained workers. . . . Another bloc of government workers have been exempted from civil service—several hundred jobs in the State Department's refugee division. Headed by W. Scott McLeod, this agency's record has been largely zero so far. Notwithstanding that, the Civil Service Commission by a 2 to 1 vote granted McLeod's request that the workers under him be removed from civil service requirements and put on a patronage basis.

Expensive gear—Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, head of the Health, Education and Welfare Department, is reported to be searching for a pedestrian who bumped into an auto, dented the side to the tune of a $200 repair job, then disappeared before the driver could get his name. I have a notion about ten million pedestrians would like to find him, too—to pin a medal on him and give him the keys to any cities he might like for his collection!

A hale-and hearty pioneer in California, celebrating his ninety-fifth birthday, willingly gave his recipe for the good, full life: "I never drank, smoked, or had anything to do with women—till I was eleven years old."

Friend of TV star Peter Donald tendered him a monster jam-boree and cocktail party upon his recent return from a long tour. "On auspicious occasions of this sort," declared the grateful Peter, "I always have a lump in my throat—generally an olive."

San Diego police were reported searching for a pedestrian who bumped into an auto, dented the side to the tune of a $200 repair job, then disappeared before the driver could get his name. I have a notion about ten million pedestrians would like to find him, too—to pin a medal on him and give him the keys to any cities he might like for his collection!

Flashback—Senator Leverett Saltonstall (R., Mass.), chairman of the Armed Services Committee, at a private meeting of the Senate Rules Committee, presented a "confidential" letter from Allen Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, vigorously opposing both an investigation of it and the establishment of a special joint committee to have exclusive jurisdiction over it. Saltonstall also told the Rules Committee that he was authorized to state that President Eisenhower will personally use his full powers to fight anyone who attempts to probe CIA. Declared Saltonstall, "The President asked me to make it very clear that he will not tolerate any investigation of CIA. He is unshakably against that."

Guest—Mrs. C. B. Staples has returned from Bridgeport, Conn., where she was a guest of her daughter, Mrs. William Kirkpatrick.

Picnic—The E.S. Brownies, directed by Mrs. Spencer Cramer and Mrs. William Harvey, will hold their annual picnic at Stokes Mill.

E.S.T.C.—C. Raymond Beninger, E.S., was re-elected president of the Board of Trustees of E.S.S. Teachers College. Other officers: Dale H. Learn, John N. Gish and George L. Nyce.

George Sokolsky Says...

So Many Americans Develop Vested Interest In Government Jobs, Bureaucracy May Remain

An important phenomenon of modern times is the growth in all countries of government bureaucracies. In a large part of the world, all the economic processes are either government-owned or government-controlled, entailing the employment of increasing numbers of persons by governments.

The largest of all bureaucracies is the Russian. Professor Arnold Brecht, formerly of Leipzig, now in this country, says that in Russia "three bureaucracies exert themselves side by side; one under the regular departments of the government; the second, the secret police, under the Minister of the Interior; and the third, the party bureaucracy, under the party leadership."

These three bureaucracies are not controlled by public opinion, but only by the party which has mastered the state and possesses no opposition. It is in total control of all operations of the state which owns all the means of production, distribution and exchange. There are more than 50 federal ministries in Russia that have to be coordinated by the policy of the government which is determined not by the party.

The United States, during most of its history, avoided a large bureaucracy because of the inherent dislike of Americans for government into their private affairs. As the bureaucracy grew, slowly after the Civil War, with great acceleration during the Roosevelt regime, the problem of separation of powers arose. Whereas in our simpler form of government, Congress could not interfere with the Executive, it soon became necessary for the independent regulatory agencies to usurp some of the functions of Congress. In fact, Congress authorized the employment of these powers which heretofore had been regarded as limited to Congress.

A characteristic of any bureaucracy is that the real power over the people is exercised by those who are on the lowest level of government. This is not always noticeable but Americans are becoming more conscious of it in relationship with income tax field checks, during which major decisions are made on the spot.

The citizen finds it cheaper not to argue and therefore he accepts these decisions, whether he thinks them right or wrong. A life-long precedent may be set up then and there.

In such an institution as the State Department, the basis for decisions is too often the result of data provided or omitted or slanted by the men at the various territorial desks, the classic example being the use of the term "agrarian reformers" in the 1940's to describe Chinese Communists who were a well-defined and fairly successful party as early as 1925. In such an agency as the CIA, those charged with the evaluation and elimination of the vast amount of material that comes in can, in a measure, determine what the policy and attitude of government may be. An error of judgment as to data down the line can have historic significance a decade later.

Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia describes the American bureaucracy as operating "... through governmental structures in upwards of 100,000 local districts, 17,000 cities, 3,000 counties, and 48 states, and through the vast Federal bureaucracy..." He says that the "... reported direct civilian employment by all the governments totals 6.9 million, or more than one in every twenty-five persons..." He further states that the Federal Government is engaged in 1,400 budgeted projects and programs "... into which Federal funds are pumped through most of the 2,800 Treasury accounts."

Senator Byrd makes the point: "All governments in the United States annually are collecting revenue totaling eighty-five billion dollars; spending more than one hundred billion dollars; running deficits of more than fifteen billion dollars; and, at present, operating under a public debt burden of more than three hundred billion dollars."

"As compared with twenty-five years ago they have increased revenue collections 700 per cent, expenditures 900 per cent, deficits 1,400 per cent, and public debt 900 per cent."

What we have to face is that whereas the Republicans in the 1952 campaign promised to reduce the bureaucracy, to cut the cost of government and to lessen taxes, very little that really matters has been accomplished in this direction. The assumption must be that little will be done until another election is fought out on the question of economy in government. Maybe that will never happen and the habit of bureaucratic government will become fixed. Too many Americans are developing a vested interest in government jobs.

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

One of the girls involved in the "Mickey" Jeltke scandals, when interviewed by reporters flashed a one-way ticket to St. Louis on them.

"This is where I am going," she said, "I am leaving right away and I hope I'll never come back to this lousy town which did me so much harm."

And, to show her good faith, she also showed the newsmen all her packed trunks and suitcases which proved that she meant what she said.

Whether this lady will have any more luck, or any more success in St. Louis, remains to be seen. They have jails there just the same as in New York, perhaps not as many, but just as tight, just as effective as those of what she calls a "lousy town."

What the young "lady" doesn't seem to realize is that it is not the town that's bad, it's those human beings who live in it and use it to bleed the suckers and the rubes, both the natives as well as those from the provinces.

The same town that has made tramps out of some has made millionaires out of others. Or rather I should not have said that it is the "town" that made tramps out of them. Only the big towns give ready-made tramps a better opportunity than a smaller town would.

The trouble with New York is that every crook in the country considers it a fertile field for his or her tricks. A city which houses hundreds of thousands of tourists every day, which has opportunities beyond the newsmen's wildest dreams, which is open all day and all night, is also an open sesame for all the criminals and tricksters in the country.

In all my travels through this and other countries I have never seen a city that tries to be more decent, more clean, more fit for human habitation than New York.

A city in which millions have to live like animals in cages is bound to have its quota of bad people. The mere fact that people like "Mickey" Jeltke have been exposed, and his aides—camp driven out into the open, speaks well for New York. There are many other cities in this country where prostitution, gambling and other forms of vice thrive with no attempt on the part of the authorities to stop them.

I am about New York a little bit like the wife who was being beaten up by her husband. When a stranger interfered, she turned around and knocked the blazes out of him, for butting in on HER private business. We folks who have made our living in New York for many years just don't like it if outsiders come and call our town "lousy." We may call it a "lousy" town, but we don't want a St. Louis lady-of-the-evening to call it that.

You may have read that item from Montgomery, Ala., where a man was arrested and charged with slugging a lady during a night club brawl.

"I thought it was my wife," the man explained. I don't know what happened to him. The dispatch didn't say. But I wonder whether the judge considered it a legitimate mistake and let the man go.

We had dinner at the beautiful country home of a delightful elderly couple last night. These two have about everything they want—a lovely garden, a maid whose cooking is out of this world, an expensive car and plenty of money. I asked the hostess what, if she could have one wish, she would ask for.

"An apartment on Park Avenue in New York City," she said, "where life would be right at my feet."

Can't be such a "lousy town," can it?

Barrett School Board Votes Five-Mill Property Tax Hike

Directors Okay Budget For $113,269

CANADENSIS—Barrett school directors approved a $113,269 budget for the 1954-55 school year this week and raised the millage rate on property by five mills over the 1953-54 level.

The board set taxation rates at 35 mills on property with a five dollar per capita rate, according to Mrs. Helen Miller, secretary.

Adoption of the school budget was carried out after copies of the proposed budget had been publicly posted, directors said. The budget includes the following sub-divisions:

GENERAL CONTROL—$3,790; expenses of instruction—$78,560; auxiliary and coordinating agencies—$6,300; operation of school plant—$8,319; maintenance of the plant—$7,375; fixed charges—$5,525; debt service—$2,000; capital outlay—$1,460.

Final 1953 settlement on taxes was made with Harry Evans, the township tax collector, by the board. The 1954 tax duplicate was then handed to Evans.

The amount of the 1954 duplicate is as follows: $83,388.60 in property taxes; $6,895 in per capita taxation. Total duplicate for 1954 taxes will be $89,283.60 the board said.

BARRETT'S per capita taxation remains unchanged over the 1953-54 level.

Board members attending the meeting were Harry J. Drennan, president; Theodore Verney, vice president; Earl S. Rose, treasurer; Irwin Shinnen and Rees Siglin, members. Mrs. Helen Miller, non-member, is the secretary.

Increase of the property millage rate brings Barrett's property tax rate to the legal limit provided under school law.

Garaventi, Shelby Carter Win Top Prizes At SHS Commencement Exercises

STROUDSBURG HIGH SCHOOL handed out its top awards last night during commencement exercises at the school.

Donald Garaventi, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Garaventi, N. Ninth St., was named winner of the "Egbert Medal," considered by school officials as "the top award given by the school."

Shelby Carter, daughter of Mrs. H. T. Carter, 714 Sarah St., won the $1,000 Lillian Kintner Memorial Scholarship award.

The "Egbert" award is the oldest prize tradition at the school. It was set up in 1916 by Miss C. Louise Egbert, a teacher at the high school.

THE TERMS of the award are these: "So that Stroudsburg High School boys and girls may learn to emphasize and to strive for, not only high standing, but something in addition far higher and more worthwhile than mere scholarship."

To assist in this aim, Miss Egbert said "I wish to offer . . . a gold medal for general excellence which shall include breadth of interest, sense of honor and responsibility, school spirit, scholarship, courtesy and influence for good."

"The prize shall be bestowed commencement night upon that member of the senior class who shall be judged by vote of the high school faculty the one showing these qualities in the most marked degree."

THE AWARD was set up by Miss Egbert with approval of Dr. Robert Brown, then school superintendent, and the borough school board. Garaventi—who has been an athlete with high scholastic standing through all his four years—is also the winner of the 1954 Tom Waring award of $100 for the Varsity S Club member with highest academic standing.

In last night's ceremonies, Garaventi also received the Bausch and Lomb Science award and the school mathematics award.

Miss Carter received the Kintner scholarship which may be used at any recognized college or university. It was set up by Robert Kintner, former Stroudsburg resident who is now president of the American Broadcasting Co. in memory of his mother.

KINTNER ATTENDED last year's commencement exercises to present the award in person. He was also commencement speaker.

Miss Carter has been active in school music functions. She previously received the Arion award for her work in the school band. Last night she received the Music Study Club Award, also.

Other awards included the Robert Brown award, made annually by the PTA. Lillie Mae Adams was recipient of this award which is made "for growth in character, service, leadership, personal growth and scholarship." Miss Adams' name will be engraved on a plaque kept in the school trophy case.

WINNER OF THE Hi-Y award was Jack Price; the PTA Health Award went to Sandra Bolich; DAR citizenship award was given to Marian Swartley, the valedictorian, while the DAR U. S. History award went to Anne Nitrauer, salutatorian.

Miss Swartley also received the Kiwanis citation for "five fold student." Miss Nitrauer received awards in Social Science and the Lillie Bittenbender award in English.

Karl Weingartner received the Varsity S "Jerome Slutter Athletic Award" and the honor society award given to an outstanding senior.

PMF Reelects A. J. Sordoni As President

STATE SECRETARY of Commerce Andrew J. Sordoni, of Wilkes-Barre, was unanimously re-elected president of the AAA Pennsylvania Motor Federation by delegates from 57 AAA clubs throughout the Commonwealth yesterday at the close of the 48th annual meeting of the federation at Pocono Manor Inn.

The former State senator, who is also senior vice-president of the American Automobile Association, was first elected to the post on Feb. 2, 1945, to succeed the late Judge Howard W. Hughes.

Walter E. Burns, of Harrisburg, was re-elected treasurer, and the following were elected as vice presidents:

Will S. Fox, Pine Grove; John S. Giles, Reading; F. E. Ballantyne, Philadelphia; Robert J. Firman, Erie; William E. Bright, Jermyn; Warren C. Bullette, York, and George O. Yohe, Pittsburgh.

R. B. Maxwell, of Harrisburg, is secretary-manager of the federation.

A SUCCESSFUL candidate for political office and an organization wishing for the success of a legislative program must operate along the same general principles, State Treasurer Weldon B. Heyburn told delegates at yesterday morning's session.

Parochial School Schedules Outing

ALL MEMBERS of St. Matthew's parish are invited to attend the parochial school outing scheduled for Tuesday, June 15, at the CLU picnic grove.

Transportation will be provided by the school buses which will follow their established routes just one hour later than usual. There will also be a stop at the school to pick up those who do not ordinarily need bus accommodations.

In the event of rain, the outing will take place Wednesday.

For boy, Patricia Bartholomew was winner of the latter award to a senior girl.

Vocational agriculture and homemaking awards, given by Cherry Valley Grange, went to Herbert Courtwright and Gladys Hoffner. Martha Yost won the commercial award. The industrial arts award went to LeRoy VanBuskirk while Larry Funk was winner of the boy's health award.

Dr. Rushmore's office will be closed June 10 to June 21.—Adv.

Miss Swartley Foresees Good In Atomic Age

FEAR FOR the loss of personal liberties and an optimistic view of the atomic age were the keys to the two leading student addresses at last night's Stroudsburg High School commencement.

The speakers were Marian Swartley and Anne Nitrauer, valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively. Miss Swartley predicted a "new epoch" of good coming from atomic energy despite its destructiveness. Miss Nitrauer warned that political whims and hysteria are abridging American rights.

Miss Nitrauer began her address by recalling this year as "the 25th year the present (high school) building has been in use." The class of 1929, she said, graduated into an era of "unparalleled prosperity."

THE PRESENT senior class could "understand only by hearsay and history books the impact of the depression of the 1930's" on the young men and women of that day, she said.

Instead of acute economic problems, Miss Nitrauer continued, the 1954 class "faces its own problems—problems of a political and moral nature."

American writer Bernard DeVoto, in commenting on the current scene, has pointed sarcastically to the trend on the part of all speakers to preface their remarks with "now don't misunderstand me—I have never belonged to any 'wrong' groups" to avoid the taint of suspicion, she said.

"IF YOU WASH away the sarcasm of DeVoto's statement, we find that our freedoms today are being abridged and altered," she continued. Part of this gradual alteration, she said, may be seen in the tendency to label teachers who instruct students "about" Communism as suspect.

Miss Nitrauer attempted to point out to her audience the broad difference between "teaching about" an alien philosophy and actually espousing it. Only through understanding of evil, she continued, could the young mind oppose it.

Quoting from Federal Judge Learned Hand, who used the statement in an "I Am An American Day" address, Miss Nitrauer said:

"RISK FOR RISK, for myself I had rather take my chances that some traitors will escape detection than spread abroad a spirit of general suspicion and distrust which accepts rumor and gossip in place of undismayed and unflinching inquiry."

The freedom to teach and to learn, without the establishment of rigid outlines are our two most important freedoms, the salutatorian continued. "These are basic to all freedoms," she said. "Otherwise we have none."

Again quoting from Judge Hand she said: The spirit of liberty is the spirit of Him (Christ) "who nearly 2,000 years ago taught mankind that lesson it has never learned, but has never forgotten—that there may be a kingdom where the least shall be heard and considered side by side with the greatest."

MISS SWARTLEY noted that "in the minds of many" atomic energy is synonymous with destruction and death. Strangely enough, she said, in viewing the future with alarm we are being completely normal.

Other generations have thought Man is about to destroy himself, she continued. This tendency has been true during past generations where the public dealt unkindly with scientists such as Joseph Lister, Charles Darwin and the Wright Brothers, she said.

During years to come, Miss Swartley concluded, the contributions of atomic fusion will add greatly to industry, agriculture and medicine. In the end, she said, quoting from "Man's Search For Himself" by Rollo May, "Man will rise above his pessimism" and other, finer epochs will follow.

Mrs. Tittle, Formerly Of Borough, Dies

MRS. MARY Buskirk Tittle, 72, Brodheadsville, died at East Stroudsburg General Hospital at 11:35 a. m. yesterday following a month's illness.

She had lived in South Stroudsburg until the death of her husband, Stewart, 20 years ago. She moved then into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Layton Butz, Stockertown. Mrs. Tittle moved to Brodheadsville a month ago.

She was a graduate of the former Fairview Academy of Brodheadsville, and of Pierce Business College, Philadelphia. She was a member of Reformed Church.

SURVIVING ARE several cousins. Services will be at 2 p. m. Monday at Kresge funeral home, Brodheadsville, with Rev. Adam Bonher officiating. Burial will be at Brodheadsville Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 7 to 8:30 p. m. Sunday.

He received his Bachelor of Music degree at Eastman School of Music. In 1952 he won a Fulbright scholarship to study in Paris with Arthur Honegger. In 1954 he received a Horatio Parker scholarship to continue his music composition studies.

With this scholarship he attended the Yale School of Music and is at present first cellist with the New Haven Symphony Orchestra. The composer will appear in person to receive his prize during the performance of his winning composition at Tamiment near Bushkill.

SERVING AS judges of the unpublished compositions submitted in the contest were Dimitri Mitropoulos, Samuel Barber and the members of the Curtis Quartet.

John Riley Winner Of First Award

JOHN RILEY, New Haven, Conn., composer, is the winner of the first annual Tamiment String Quartet Award, it was announced yesterday.

The contest was sponsored this year for the first time by Camp Tamiment and its parent organization, Tamiment Institute. A $500 prize goes to the composer of the winning composition which will be performed on Friday, June 25, by the Curtis String Quartet.

Performance of the winning work will form a part of the four-day Tamiment Chamber Music Festival. It is titled simply "Quartet For Strings."

A 35-YEAR-OLD Army veteran, Riley was born in Altoona, Pa. While in the armed services he played cello with an Army chamber music group.

He received his Bachelor of Music degree at Eastman School of Music. In 1952 he won a Fulbright scholarship to study in Paris with Arthur Honegger. In 1954 he received a Horatio Parker scholarship to continue his music composition studies.

With this scholarship he attended the Yale School of Music and is at present first cellist with the New Haven Symphony Orchestra. The composer will appear in person to receive his prize during the performance of his winning composition at Tamiment near Bushkill.

SERVING AS judges of the unpublished compositions submitted in the contest were Dimitri Mitropoulos, Samuel Barber and the members of the Curtis Quartet.

The Tamiment award in chamber music carries on a tradition established by the organization which honors outstanding works in the field of the arts. It is one of the largest composition-awards ever established in U. S. chamber music composition history.

Picnic For Ann Logan Hospital Soc.

The Anna Logan Society of the General Hospital of Monroe County will close its club year with a picnic supper meeting on Monday night at 6:30 at the Stroudsburg Playgrounds. In case of rain, the supper will be held at the Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

Hostesses for the supper will be the team captains of the last year: Mrs. Lowenstein, Mrs. Melvin Feiterhoff, Miss Isabelle Finn, Mrs. Leonard Houlose, Mrs. Kenneth Risley, Mrs. James Gavin and Mrs. James Mader. They will furnish rolls and coffee.

The end of the meeting year will not mean the end of activity for the group, however. They plan a series of summer card parties, to which they are inviting summer visitors to the Poconos.

The first will be held on July 28 at 2 p.m. at Camp Tamiment, above Bushkill, with prizes, and refreshments. Transportation can be arranged with Mrs. M. J. Stadfeld.

Presbyterian Children's Day Service

Children will present all phases of the worship service at the First Presbyterian Church of Stroudsburg on Sunday morning, when the Children's Day Service will replace both morning worship services and the church school.

The children will gather in their departments at 10:15 and at 10:30 will march in processional to the church sanctuary. Each department will have a part in the program.

Russell Harmon will bring a message for the children. Rev. John Sinclair will give the invocation and benediction, and Horace Westbrook, church school superintendent, will introduce the various sections of the program. The combined Westminster and Junior Chorus will lead the processional and recessional, and will sing an anthem under the direction of Mrs. Earl Wilhoite.

Republican Picnic Changed

Mount Pocono—The Pocono Mountain Council of Republican Women announce a change of date for their June picnic which is to be held on the 23rd at the home of Miss Eloise Bryan, Swiftwater, instead of the date originally planned. Each one is requested to bring a covered dish and their own table service. Time 6 p.m.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

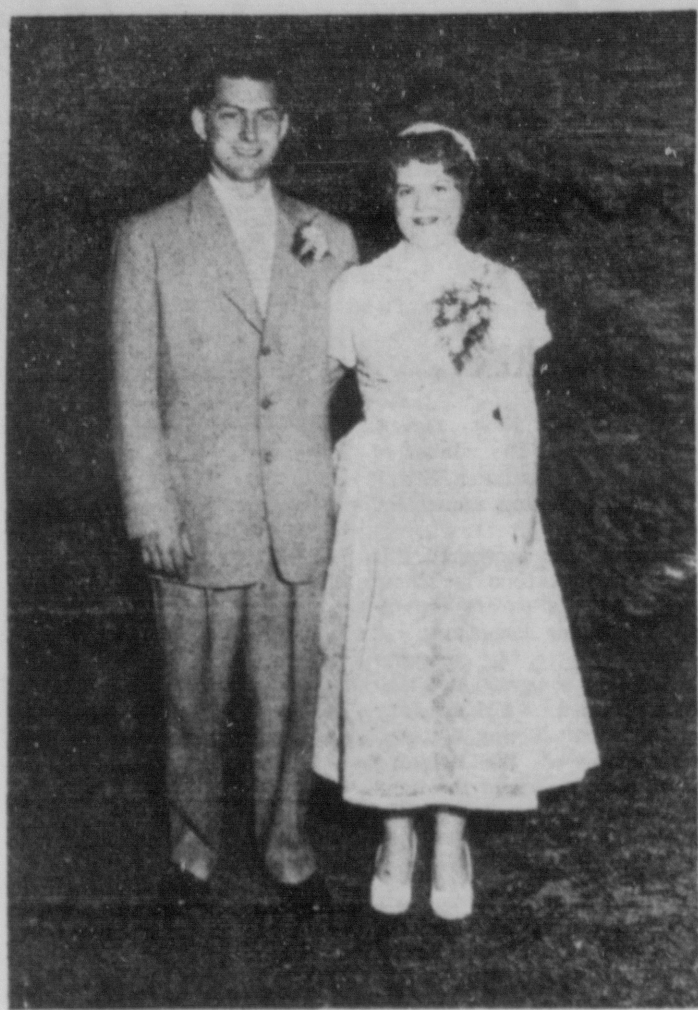

This is the weekend the lid blows off the social teapot which is boiling away like mad. Weddings every hour on the hour, alumni banquets and class reunions all over the county. Children's Day services in practically every church.

All of which involves getting dressed up in your best bib and tucker, garments not usually suitable for a heat wave. However, the excitement will probably carry you through.

It's hard to tell which is the most sentimental. Weddings, of course, always bring a certain amount of tears. But there's a heart tug at reunions, too, seeing how that young fellow you knew has aged and remembering how close the ties of friendship once were.

And anyone who can sit through a children's day service without a lump in his throat at the sight and sound of young things at their shiniest is a pretty unimaginative person.

Laurel Tea Planned By Garden Club

The Monroe County Garden Club executive board announced plans for its annual Laurel Tea to be held at the LaBar Rhododendron Nursery on Thursday, June 17 at 2:15. Mrs. Oscar Lillenstein presided at the board meeting held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Russell Harmon in the Nursery.

The Wild Flower Glen, sponsored by the Garden Club, is progressing. It was announced. Mrs. Elwood Grant announced that she is marking the various flowers and plants, using both the botanical and common name. The Grants donated a number of laurel plants (Kalmia latifolia) which have been planted at the entrance to the Glen.

Mrs. Frederick Trumbour, of Stroudsburg RDI, whose membership was sponsored by Mrs. Robert Miller, and Miss Ida M. Bennett, of 129 Ridgeway St., East Stroudsburg, sponsored by Mrs. William E. Peacock, were voted in as new members of the club.

In planning the Laurel Tea, it was decided to hold it in the formal garden with Jesse S. Flory, landscape architect at the nursery as the speaker. He will talk on "New Plants for the Garden."

The reception committee will include the past presidents of the club. Music will be provided by Gene Schiller on the celeste.

In case of rain, the meeting will be held as usual in the First Presbyterian Church of Stroudsburg.

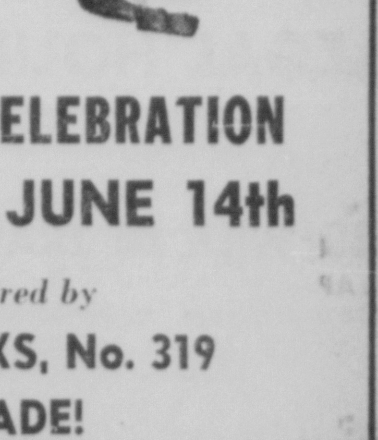

Present for the board meeting were Mrs. Ray Osborne, Mrs. William Hannas, Mrs. Edgar Van Why, Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Walter Stanard, Mrs. Harmon, Mrs. John Teisher, Mrs. Judson Lee, Mrs. LeRoy Bush, and Mrs. Ralph F. S. Moock.

Two Reasons For Celebration At Muransky's

Miss Susan Gale Muransky celebrated her seventh birthday at a family dinner party at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Muransky, Washington St., East Stroudsburg, on Friday night.

She will entertain her friends at a party on Saturday at a luncheon. On Sunday, June 13, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Muransky, her parents, will celebrate their 11th wedding anniversary.

Press Aux. Holds Final Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of Pressman's Auxiliary was held at the CLU on Tuesday with Marion Bensley presiding. Plans were made for the picnic on August 8 at 1 p.m. at CLU Memorial Park. Members and their families will attend.

Plants and a baby blanket were sent to Jean Robbins. There will be no meeting during July and August.

Refreshments were served from a table decorated with spring flowers by the hostesses: Mrs. Connie Baker, Mrs. Marion Bensley, and Mrs. Bernadine Pabst.

The next meeting will be held September 14.

SHS Class Of '29 Reunion

The class of 1929, Stroudsburg High School, will hold its 25th reunion today at Skyline Inn with an afternoon and night program planned. Robert F. Melick, class president, announced that more than 60 reservations had been received with many of the class returning from South Carolina, Delaware and other sections of the country.

The class of 1929 was the first to graduate from the new high school building on West Main St. Luncheon Held Mrs. John A. Lee, of 208 East Broad St., East Stroudsburg, entertained the following at a luncheon on Thursday: Mrs. Mary Paul, Mrs. Dorothy Munde, Mrs. Peg Banta, Mrs. Helen Joense, Mrs. Margaret Carlton.

Progressive Woman's Club Closes Year With Banquet

Saylorsburg—"Our Heritage" was the theme of the Progressive Woman's Club banquet which was held Wednesday night at Greenview Guest Farm, Saylorsburg RD. The dining room was decorated in red, white and blue streamers leading to the lettering "Our Heritage" above the speakers' table. The speakers' table was centered with a large bowl of red, white and blue garden flowers. Each table had red, white and blue symbols of Pennsylvania in center, with a blue vase, containing mock orange blossoms. Favors at each place setting were small blue vases containing mock orange blossoms.

Invocation was given by Mrs. George Hafler, vice president, which was followed by group singing, led by Mrs. LeVonne McNett, and Mrs. Nevin Dorshimer on the piano.

After the chicken dinner, Mrs. Elmer Veety, president, gave echoes from the State Convention which was held in Philadelphia in May, when she and Mrs. Albert Nelson represented the club. Mrs. James Shannon, a former member of the club, and past president of the Woman's Club at Middleburg where she now resides, was present. Mrs. Veety gave each member of her executive board a gift of remembrance.

A bake sale was announced for July 24 to be held at the Harry Weiss Store, Brodheadsville, and Frank Schick Store, Saylorsburg. Each member was urged to donate.

The program chairman, Mrs. Grant Knowles, read a poem, "Many Flags" as her introduction and presented Mrs. Franklin Del.

THE OUTLET

Opposite the A&P, So. Courtland St. East Stroudsburg

Having heard nothing to the contrary, we assume that Ruth and Roe Bush arrived safely in Cleveland, Ohio, to witness the graduation of their grandson, David Allen, from Western Reserve Academy. This was their first experience in skyway travel, and their reservations from Allentown airport were made through our Wyckoff Travel Bureau. While both prefer "solid ground," I'm sure they felt equally safe on "solid cloud." It invariably works out that way . . . Everyone is congratulating Anna Haller on her promotion to the position of section manager over the gift, stationery, candy and toy departments. Anna, who has been with us since the Christmas season, is particularly suited to this post, having had more than 29 years with R. H. Macy in varied positions of management. This is just one more step toward keeping Wyckoff's out in front, both in smart appearance and efficient service. Announcement of the section management plan was made (Thursday) over our amplifying system by Mr. E. H. Wyckoff . . . As I type this, the clouds seem to be gathering overhead, and there is a chill in the air that was missing during those many, long days of sunshine. This will please my children. Ever since they received a little "weather house" from Wyckoff's, they've been waiting for the tiny lady to retreat indoors so they might take a better look at the man with the umbrella . . . These imported weather vane are adorable, the miniature cottages being very skillfully made in Germany by workmen who undoubtedly have a keen sense of whimsy. They're "lovely" as well as informative . . . Disappointed . . . that's what I am! After thinking I'd found a bargain in a lovely little shawl at $2.98, I find they're a bit snug in the sleeve for one my size. Nevertheless, they're precious for smaller women and girls, and come in lovely shades of yellow and blue. They're remarkably receptive to laundering too—a bargain you can readily shrug into but shouldn't shrug off. For me the answer is a lace, woolly stole at $6.98, so, while it's pretty as a popcorn cloud, I'll debate a while . . . That business of debating is a pesky thing, but it does settle your problems sometimes. If you debate long enough, sure as shootin' somebody will buy whatever you were debating about, and you must accept a substitute or admit that you didn't really need it in the first place . . . Walter Wyckoff was just proud this week when he received a copy of the Publishers' Idea Exchange and found his Father's Day ad of last year reproduced. It was the ad showing everything from A to Z in gifts for Dad. No doubt about it, Walt rates the ad-miration . . . Did you ever see anything lovelier than the genuine Delft ware just received from Holland? It's gorgeous, and while almost anyone would cherish the big plate with the picture of Baby Stuart, the small pitchers or plates would be just as graciously received. Pieces range in price from $3.50 to $55. I was amazed to read that Delft designs are actually painted in black, and that wonderful, unmatchable blue emerges after the firing. In this particular case, I think being "black and blue" is a priceless achievement . . . Yesterday there were women customers from Ohio and Lehigh, Pa., and the day before, a woman from Illinois who made many gracious comments about our store. Said the lady from Lehigh, "We come here every chance we get. We love Wyckoff's." Mrs. Ohio agreed that she always enjoys visits to the Poconos because she enjoys browsing in our store. But this was the first visit of the lady from Illinois. She and her husband have no children of their own, but had educated a nephew at Yale and were enroute from his graduation. "I'm amazed to find a store like this—it's beautiful," she exclaimed, "and everyone's so friendly. Why, I feel as though I've known you forever." She hasn't of course—but we hope she'll continue feeling that way about Wyckoff's for years to come.

Monroe County Milk Revenue Tops Million Dollars In '53

MONROE COUNTY'S INCOME from milk topped $1,097,688 during 1953 according to the Pennsylvania June Dairy Month Committee which released the following figures:

The county's dairy farmers produced over 8,500,000 quarts of milk valued at $1,018,132.

Wages milk dealers paid Monroe County dairy employees topped $79,500.

"This huge income from milk and dairy products kept telling rings in service stations, grocery stores, insurance offices, and all other types of businesses throughout the county," said Ralph L. Culver, chairman of the state June Dairy Month Committee.

"BECAUSE OUR state is so industrialized, few realize Pennsylvania is the fifth largest milk producing state in the country," Mr. Culver added.

Culver, a Bradford County dairy farmer, said one of every 25 people living in Pennsylvania depend on milk and milk products for their livelihood. He stated the statewide income from milk during 1953 rose to $413,831,363.

"This is a great achievement for a state that is generally known as being primarily industrialized," Mr. Culver continued, "and this huge sum stands as a tribute to our 43,000 dairy farmers and their families who work long hours, seven days a week, doing their share in assisting the 1,580 milk handlers and distributors to place on our doorsteps as high quality milk as can be found anywhere in the nation."

Properties Transferred

TWO DEEDS were recorded yesterday at the office of Floyd Butz, county register of wills and recorder.

The first deed showed a transfer of a Smithfield lot and buildings to Mr. and Mrs. John R. Wilson, Stroudsburg. Sale was made through Chester M. Phillips, Victor Thulin and Raymond Jaggers, executors of the Hallie D. Carver estate.

A lot in Middle Smithfield on the road between Regina Hotel and Shawnee was transferred to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tabler, that place by Ruth Tabler, also of Middle Smithfield.

Social Service Exchange Adopts $8,390 Budget

TWO STROUDSBURG men are now serving on committees for the Lehigh Valley Social Service Exchange.

They are William P. Wells, a director of the Exchange, now working with the finance committee and Arlington Williams, now working with the personnel committee.

An $8,390.56 budget for the exchange was approved yesterday for the coming year. The case-load cleared by the group has increased 11 percent in the past year, according to the first five-month report from Ella Siegfried, executive director.

Students Visit Alleger Farm

EIGHT EAST Stroudsburg State Teachers College summer students went on a tour of the Raymond Alleger farm, Chipperfield Drive, Stroud Township, yesterday in conjunction with a special course in conservation of natural resources.

Arranged by Dr. John Wildrick, instructor, students heard Alleger explain benefits of the conservation program on his farm. As director in Stroud Township schools, Alleger also cited the need for a conservation program in the educational system.

Thursday, students heard Norman Dietrick, county conservation specialist assigned to the Monroe County Soil Conservation district outline the national and local problems. Dietrick also showed slides of work being done on county farms.

East Stroudsburg's Memorial Stadium will take on a new look in the very near future, as the fence ordered for the football field arrived on Thursday. It will be constructed and painted soon and will in all probability be finished in plenty of time for the big "Memorial Stadium Light Fund" show to be staged by Tom Waring and Harry Obitz sometime in August. Plans are already underway for the big affair to be presented by the Shawnee troupe.

George Condrick, former pitcher with the Stroudsburg Poconos and a winter resident of Tannersville, recently pitched a one-hit game for Houston, of the class "AA" Texas League against Fort Worth. Houston went on to win by a 5-2 count. The only hit off Condrick was a double in the seventh inning, coming on the heels of two straight walks and accounted for both losing runs. George, a big right hander, walked three and struck out the same number. He went to bat three times, but didn't account for any hits. He was credited with two assists.

Pocono Manor's Pro-Member golf tournament, usually held in late September or early October, has been moved up to Sunday, August 15, when the local resort will celebrate its 52nd anniversary. The old wooden part of the hotel was constructed in 1902 and the big stone section was completed in 1924. This year's pro-member tournament is expected to be the largest one of its kind ever held at the Manor, where Jack Cuttle, resident pro, looks over the sprawling 18-hole layout.

Harry Warner, Reeder's resident now playing first base for Salem, Oregon, of the class "A" Western International League, is hitting at a .333 clip at the present time, Salem is currently last in the standings. It was stated within this space recently that Harry had won a suit of clothes by hitting a sign atop the scoreboard on the center field fence. This scribe was informed yesterday that this is only the sixth time since 1940 that the feat has been accomplished. Warner is a graduate of Pocono High school.

I think one of the lowest practices in amateur and semi-pro baseball is that of tampering with players on rival clubs, in the same or different leagues. I know every one will throw up their hands and plead innocence to this charge. But this writer knows definitely that the practice is going on here, right under our noses. Mike Bonser, Reeder's catcher, is slowly recovering from an injury that has kept him out of the lineup for the past three games.

Dominic DeLoe, former shortstop for the Stroudsburg Poconos, is now playing the same position for Portsmouth, of the class "B" Piedmont League. Tannersville's once postponed Little League meeting will take place at the fire house on Tuesday. Any adult wishing to lend a hand in forming one or possibly two Little League teams in this area are urged to attend the gathering, slated to get underway at 8 p.m. If and when the team or teams are formed it is hoped that they will be able to find a spot in one of the local circuits.

Charley Rotzell and Bill Williams, both members of the Tatamy club in the Blue Mountain League, were also teammates in pro ball in 1947, when both played with Lynchburg, of the Piedmont League. Lynchburg at the time was an affiliate of the St. Louis Cardinals. Rotzell played the outfield and Williams held down second base, the same positions they handle at the present time.

Athletic Group To Back Team

Bangor—Bangor Athletic Association, well known sports organization in the Slate Belt, agreed to sponsor the fifth team in the Bangor Little League this season. The announcement was made during a circuit meeting at the Fourth Ward Citizens Club Thursday night.

Officials

Elwood Freeman, president of Bangor A. A., was named team representative to the league. Elwood Parsons was selected as manager and Pete Williams as coach. Parsons was formerly a coach for the First Ward team. Blaine Holland was named to fill the First Ward vacancy.

Yankees Edge Chisox

New York (AP)—Irv Noren lashed a two-out single in the eighth inning which scored Phil Rizzuto with the run that gave the New York Yankees a 3-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox last night. The loss was the first for the White Sox in their last eight games and cut their league lead to half a game over the Cleveland Indians.

Storm Shoots 65 For Course Record At Glen Brook Club

Harold E. Storm, 1676 Pokoma Ave., Stroudsburg, shot one of the most brilliant rounds of golf ever recorded in Monroe County yesterday when he set a new course record at Glen Brook Country Club.

Storm, carding seven birdies, swept to a 65, seven strokes under par for the local course. The likeable golfer played the first nine in 33, three strokes under regulations and then came home in 32, four under par.

Harold, playing in a foursome with Bill Rusk, Jack Baldwin, August "Augie" Lockitch and Ray "Pike" Fredericks, carded birdies on the first, sixth, seventh, 14, 15, 17 and 18.

Storm's card read 334 444 335—33. 344 443 343—32—65.

There wasn't a single bogey on Storm's card.

The old record of 68 was established by Leo Heller.

Other scores in yesterday's foursome included Fredericks, 72; Lockitch, 74; Rusk, 78, and Baldwin, 80.

Penn Stroud Uses Big Frame To Trip National Bank, 10-9

Seven runs in the fourth inning carried Penn-Stroud Hotel to a 10-9 victory over the First Stroudsburg National Bank in a Stroudsburg Little League baseball game, played on the circuit's official field last night.

A's, White Sox, Senators Complete Transaction

By Ralph Bernstein

Philadelphia (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics, Chicago White Sox and Washington Senators yesterday completed a three-way swap of six players and some cash, with southpaw Morrie Martin, the chief figure in the deal, winding up with the White Sox.

Paul Richards, manager of the American League Leaching White Sox, said Martin, "if he pitches the way we know he can, could mean the pennant for us. He's the extra pitcher we need."

Frank Lane, the super-trader of the White Sox, started the deal rolling by swapping Constantine "Gus" Keriazakos, $60,000 bonus pitcher, to the Senators for John "Sonny" Dixon and $20,000. The Athletics coveted Dixon so Lane had to get the 29-year-old specialist to do business with the A's.

Package

No sooner did Lane have Dixon, he wrapped the pitcher in a package with another hurler, Al Sima, and promising rookie outfielder Bill Wilson and sent them along with a reported $20,000 to the A's for Martin and outfielder Ed McGhee. It is reported that McGhee, who came to the A's in 1953 as part of a deal that sent Ferris Fain to the Sox, was tossed in at the last minute when Richards expressed need of another outfielder to replace Wil-

Miks's Homer Decides

Chicago (AP)—Eddie Miks's first homer of the season in the 10th inning gave Chicago a 5-4 victory over New York yesterday and inflicted only the second Giant defeat in 10 games on a surging western trip.

Pirates Crush Cards

St. Louis (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates last night pounded out 19 hits, their single-game highest of the season, to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals 8-5 and break a three-game losing streak.

Dodgers Down Reds

Cincinnati (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers splurged with six runs in the seventh inning to defeat the Cincinnati Reds 10-8 last night despite a quiet Red home runs, three in one inning. The victory gave the Bums a full game lead in the tight National League race.

Moyer Top Hurler In Diamond Loop

A three-way tie for first place in the Pocono Mountains League may or may not be broken tomorrow, when the circuit features five games, each getting underway at 2 p.m.

Reeders, Kunkletown and Pocono Lake are currently deadlocked for the top spot with five wins and two defeats.

Kunkletown plays Saylorburg, on the home field of the latter club, one of the strongest in the circuit. Reeders is at home with Lake Harmony, while Pocono Lake battles Barrett on the latter's home ground.

Analomik meets West End A. C. at Gilbert, while Tannersville plays at Bushkill.

John Wernett, secretary of the league, revealed last night that Ralph "Peanuts" Moyer, Saylorburg, was the leading pitcher with a mark of three wins and no defeats, as of May 31. Other undefeated hurlers as of May 31 were Paul Rossi, Pocono Lake; John Bonser and George Woodling, both of Reeders, each with two wins and no losses.

Al Smith, Art Berger and "Reds" Kresge, all of Kunkletown; George Geniola, Pocono Lake; John Brosious, Lake Harmony, and Tom Foley, Analomik, were listed with records of one win and no defeats.

Batting averages, as of the same date, follow:

Giardello Defeats Jones

New York (AP)—Joey Giardello staved off a furious last round finish by Bobby Jones, the man the wise guys couldn't "fix" to win an unanimous decision in a thrilling 10-round match last night at Madison Square Garden. A chorus of boos greeted the verdict. Giardello weighed 159 1/2, Jones 157.

Jones, who spurned an alleged $15,000 bribe offer by heavyweight Clarence Henry a week ago, went out in a driving finish that didn't quite convince the judges.

Dodgers Down Reds

Cincinnati (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers splurged with six runs in the seventh inning to defeat the Cincinnati Reds 10-8 last night despite a quiet Red home runs, three in one inning. The victory gave the Bums a full game lead in the tight National League race.

Harrison Pitches No-Hit Tie

Ronson Earns Deadlock With Barrett, 1-1

Charley Harrison pitched a no-hit game for Barrett in the Babe Ruth League last night, but it wasn't good enough to win as Ronson earned a 1-1 tie in a Babe Ruth League of the Stroudsburg contest held at East Stroudsburg Playground.

Harrison, an outstanding graduate of the Pocono Mountains Little League, held Ronson without a safety, but three first inning errors by the Barrett club enabled Ronson to score its only run.

Barrett came back to even matters in the second and that ended the scoring for the day.

Ronson made three other bids for victory, but runners attempting to steal home were cut down at the plate in the fourth, fifth and seventh frames.

Campbell, although touched for seven hits, was magnificent in the clutches, even though his supporting cast committed five errors behind him.

John and Ralph Williams combined to bang out five of seven hits credited to the Barrett contingent.

McCarry scored the lone run for Ronson and Cheslock crossed the plate for Barrett.

Shawnee To Present Sixth Swim Meet

Shawnee-on-Delaware—National and District AAU swimming champions and intercollegiate and interscholastic champions from many eastern schools will compete in the sixth annual Shawnee Invitation Swimming Championships at Shawnee Inn and Country Club here tomorrow at 2:30 p.m.

The swimmers will compete on all-star teams selected to represent the South Atlantic AAU, Middle Atlantic AAU and New Jersey AAU District Association.

Attraction

Shelly Mann, the 16-year old sensation from the Walter Reed Swim Club Washington, D. C., who has won five national championships in the past three months and the entire national championship Walter Reed team will compete. They will represent the South Atlantic District girls team.

Five universities and colleges will be represented on the New Jersey district men's team which will include Frank Piscareta, All-American from Indiana University; Dennis O'Connor, Yale; Ken Welsh, Harvard; Bill O'Brien, Princeton; Harry Schaefer, Indiana U. and Herbert Schaefer, Seton Hall.

Carlos Alvarez, Cuban national 200-meter breaststroke champion and co-captain of the University of Pennsylvania team; Dan Steinman, University of Pennsylvania; Warren Heeman, captain of the University of North Carolina team and Charles Krepp, University of North Carolina, are other intercollegiate stars entered. Alvarez and Steinman will represent the Middle Atlantic District. Heeman and Krepp will represent the South Atlantic District.

Little League Contest

Mt. Pocono—A Pocono Mountains Little League baseball game between Mt. Pocono Rotary and the Pocono Lions will be played here today, at 2 p.m.

Basketball Practice

A practice session has been scheduled for the Henryville House basketball team at Ramsey School today, at 1:30 p.m.

New Fence Ordered For Field

CONTRACTS have been awarded for construction of a six-foot concrete block fence at Gordon Giffels field.

The fence will be erected on the side of the field facing the high school building. Stroudsburg school directors awarded the contract to Paul Edinger on a low bid of $1,149 at their Thursday night meeting.

Specifications

The fence will be 210-feet in length; reinforced with a con-

Tobyhanna Seeks Initial Win Of Season In Association Contest With Maple Lake Club

Lake Ariel—Inasmuch as the Hamlin Highlanders are idle tomorrow, the chances are that Gouldsboro may go into a top place tie with that outfit after the smoke of battle has cleared in the Pocono Mountains Association course this weekend.

Of course, the Goldies must first defeat their newest foe, the Daleville Boosters, who over the years have proven their superiority over the Wayne Countians.

Since the league's ace left over the past three years, Sam Curtis, returns from Penn State University, the odds would seem to favor Gouldsboro. However, in freestyle Bob Haines, one of the better righthanders, Sad Sam will find worthy opposition.

Rivals

Two of the league's friendliest enemies, St. Catherine's of Moscow and the Mount Cobb Mountaineers, will renew an age-old feud on the latter's greensward, and as for picking the winner, it's definitely a tossup. Mount Cobb, until last Sunday, the loop's best hitting team, is banking on a return to its prowess at the plate in the hopes of upsetting righthander Jerry Stepinski's slants. Marty Ornosky, who did well enough in the outting against Hamlin, only to lose when the Salemites got six gift runs in a 7-1 victory, will start for the Cobbers.

Tobyhanna A.C. which has yet to win a game, will pit its sterling defense against a power-minded Maple Lake Club. The Chix won their last two by clambake scores and could do it again. Neither of the managers, Frank "Candy" Dailey of Tobyhanna nor Jake Blumer of the opposition was certain yesterday who they would start on the mound.

Tomorrow marks the half-way point in the race and on the 20th several clubs will remain idle, unless rain should interfere this weekend. On the 20th two postponed games will be played.

PTA Honors

Five Pupils As School Closes

DELAWARE WATER GAP—Presentation of PTA pins to five pupils of grades five and six who will enter Stroudsburg public schools in the fall highlighted the assembly program here yesterday and marked the close of school activities.

Mrs. Alys Morton, teacher, presented the awards for the PTA to Charlotte Jennings, Richard Manx and Kirk Clausen, fifth graders, and Ingrid Weckert and Allen Reinhardt, sixth graders.

In September, Mrs. Morton will teach grades three and four. She has 18 pupils entering third grade. She will attend Summer classes at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Mrs. Lillian Marshall is the first and second grade instructor. Students, teachers and parents participated in a picnic at Lake Lenape earlier this week.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 2. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Six Receive Scholarships To Colleges

SIX STROUDSBURG High school graduates have received scholarships on the basis of their academic standing and citizenship in the local school.

According to Alfred W. Munson, principal of the school, the graduates receiving scholarship awards are the following:

Marian Swartley, who is class valedictorian and will attend Duke University, Miss Swartley also received scholarship offers from Rochester University, New Jersey College for Women and the Margaret Morrison School at Carnegie Tech.

DONALD GARAVENTI will attend Lehigh University. Garaventi received scholarship offers from Carnegie Tech, Princeton University and the University of Pennsylvania also.

Genevieve Battisto will attend Marywood College. She also received an offer of a scholarship from Carnegie.

Shelby Carter will attend the University of Rochester. She also received a scholarship offer from Pembroke College.

A SCHOLARSHIP set up by a group of "interested members" of the local Kiwanis Club has been awarded to Lillie Mae Adams. The scholarship is to be used to further Miss Adams' study at "a teachers college," Munson said.

Karl Weingartner is slated to attend Fork Union Military Academy on a scholarship basis.

Future Farmers Place In State Competition

FIVE AREA FFA youths placed in the recent FFA Week competitions at State College.

According to Wilmer B. Frisbie, the following youths won prizes or honorable mentions:

James Lilly and John Patterson, Pen Argyl won emblems in the dairy projects contest; Larry Kunkle, Bangor, won an emblem in poultry; James Wagner, of Pocono, and Ronald Smith, Poik, each won

Marcella R. Price

Miss Price Graduates At Academy

MARCELLA R. PRICE, Canadensis, was graduated from the Academy of St. Elizabeth Convent in New Jersey this month.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Sanford H. Price and the late Mr. Price of Canadensis.

At the academy she took active part in the Sodality of Our Lady, was a member of the Glee Club and other music organizations, served as a class officer, was secretary of the Student Organization in her junior year and president this year.

She has also been active in the Mission Unit, the Drama Club and the athletic association. She is enrolled in the Berkeley Secretarial School in East Orange, N. J. for the Fall term.

places in the poultry competition. More than 1700 youth from all over the State attended the convention, Frisbie said. There were 401 entries in dairy; 134 in poultry.

Kunkletown Postmaster Nominated

KUNKLETOWN — President Eisenhower sent to the Senate yesterday the nomination of Leon L. Nicholas for postmaster here.

Acting postmaster since Dec. 1, 1952, Nicholas will become postmaster after the nomination is approved. He succeeds Miss May Pearsol who held the acting post a year after the retirement of her father, the late W. Herbert Pearsol. He was postmaster about 30 years.

Nicholas served with the 38th Combat Team of the U. S. Army in Europe during World War Two.

HE RETURNED here after discharge following two and a half years service. Married, he is the father of three children.

Member of Kunkletown Volunteer Fire Co., Nicholas also is director of the Ben-Salem Band and sings with the St. Matthew's Church choir.

Also nominated from the northeast section of Pennsylvania is Robert J. Drake of Hawley.

Firemen To Sound Siren Weekly

KUNKLETOWN — Fire company officials here have come up with a unique idea to remind members a meeting is about ready to start.

Firemen decided this week to sound the siren at 7:30 p.m. the first Thursday of each month. They want residents to know their plans so they won't be alarmed — and also so members can hustle over to the firehall and join the meeting.

Pet Parade Winners Announced

MORE THAN 125 children entered their pets in the Morey School "pet parade" Wednesday. Over 200 spectators attended.

The three judges for the show were Mrs. George Wakefield, Roger A. Dunning and George Metropoulos. Dunning is elementary supervisor of Stroudsburg borough schools. Metropoulos is an athletic instructor at the high school.

Kindergarten through grade six pupils were included in the show as owners of a variety of pets ranging from ants to goats.

Blue ribbon winners were the following: David Smith, police dog; Kathleen Edinger, canary; Marilyn Miller, fish; Marcia Speiser, caterpillar; Ernest Schuler, smallest kitten; Steven Mikels, cat.

SANDRA Robertson, smallest puppy; Ronnie Smith, dog; Byron Litchberg, smallest rabbit; Esta May Clifton, rabbit and best decorated cage; Ruth Ann Zettlemoyer, lizard; Leslie McCloskey, white Boxer dog.

Nancy Altmore, tadpoles; Kathy Mikels, Siamese cat; Billy Werkheiser, cat; Harold Davies, pigeon; Linda Haigh, 13 ants; Tod Williams, collie dog (prettiest pet in show); Ginny Gialouris, goat; Jean Miller, three-day-old snake; Peggy Harrison, porcupine; Russell Schaller, parakeet, and Russell LaBar.

Marine Corps Exhibit Due At Convention

A MARINE CORPS trailer exhibit will be sent to Stroudsburg for the Marine Corps League State convention here June 16-19.

It will contain war trophies, souvenirs, relics, drawings, Marine uniforms and similar items.

The 55-piece Dutch Helwig Marine Band of Philadelphia will give a concert on the porch of the Penn-Stroud Hotel, convention headquarters, at noon June 19.

THE SAME day at 2 p.m. there will be a parade through the Stroudsburgs. Among the marching units will be a Marine Corps Reserve troop from Freemansburg; and the Sixth Reserve Truck Co. from Oliphant.

The public is invited to attend the June 18 memorial services at Courthouse Square at 4 p.m. Robert Christenberry, New York boxing commissioner, and Shawnee summer resident, will be toastmaster. He recently was named "Marine of the Year."
